

Ruby - Bug #12130

WEBrick::HTTPProxy closes connection when the socket is not writable temporally

03/01/2016 06:45 AM - labocho (Keisuke NISHI)

Status:	Closed
Priority:	Normal
Assignee:	normalperson (Eric Wong)
Target version:
ruby -v:	ruby 2.3.0p0 (2015-12-25 revision 53290) [x86_64-darwin14]	Backport: 2.2: DONTNEED, 2.3: DONTNEED, 2.4: DONTNEED
Description WEBrick::HTTPProxy#do_CONNECT closes connection when Errno::EAGAIN or Errno::WOULDBLOCK occurred. These exceptions will raise when the socket is not writable temporally. I expect that the proxy will wait until the socket will be writable rather than closing the connection.
